

Custom Pages on the Lexis® Service

COMBINE SOURCES AND RESEARCH TOOLS YOU USE MOST ON YOUR OWN CUSTOM PAGES

Custom Pages on the Lexis[®] service give you a convenient way to keep the sources and tools you use most at your fingertips—all on one screen/page, organized your way. Quickly set up one or more Custom Pages, and access them anytime so you can start searching faster. Even make a Custom Page your starting page.

You can include the sources you prefer—for example, a mix of practice area, state and industry sources—as well as Lexis tools for accessing research history, Get a Document or a Shepard's[®] report when you know the citation, and more. Put content and tools in the order you need and easily add, move or remove them later.

Here's how to create a Lexis Custom Page

- 1 Select Custom Pages from Explore Content, then click the + Create a custom page link in the Custom Pages pod on the Lexis home page. ►
- 2 Enter a name for your Custom Page and click Create Page. Your Custom Page shell displays with the name in red in the upper left corner.
- 3 Use the links displayed in the Custom Page shell, i.e., click + Add New Content Group and + Add New Tools, to include sources and tools such as Get a Document to your pages. ▼

Adding content (sources) to your Custom Page

1 Click the + Add New Content Group link displayed in your Custom Page shell. The Explore Content source hierarchy displays. You can search for sources or click through the hierarchy pages, selecting the checkboxes next to the sources or combined sources you want to add to your Custom Page. You can select sources on different hierarchy screens. Use the blue "breadcrumb trail" at the top left of your screen to return to hierarchy pages.

As you choose sources, a Selected Content list displays in blue on the right side of your hierarchy screen. You can drag and drop sources to reorder this list, or you can remove sources. V
