

Cover the U.S. faster! View the statutes and regulations of all 50 states—in just one click.

Speed your work, reduce costs and be aware of critical changes. With LexisNexis® 50-State Surveys, Statutes & Regulations, comparing the statutory and regulatory provisions on a given topic for multiple states will be a cinch!

The LexisNexis 50-State Surveys, Statutes & Regulations enable you to view the legislation and regulations relating to your subject for all U.S. states—in a flash. Stay on top of important changes and help to decrease your company's vulnerability. Save time by accessing relevant codes and regulations instantly.

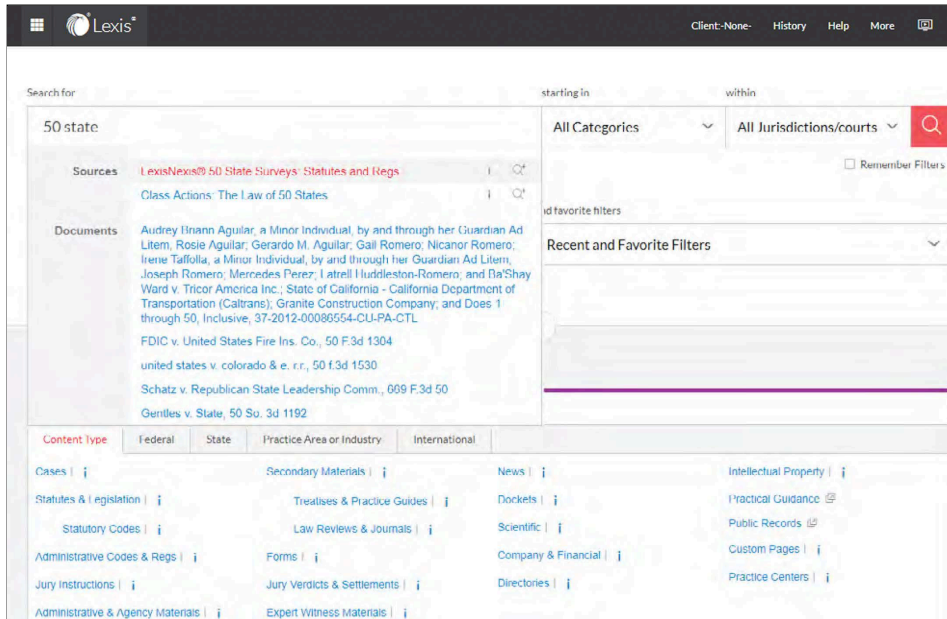

Each survey provides an overview that addresses the federal context in which these requirements operate and outlines state-level regulatory themes, direct links to citations within the Lexis® service and an easy-to-digest chart showing specific analysis of the most impactful issues on which state treatment varies. No more needless searching across multiple sources. LexisNexis® attorney-editors constructed and regularly review the 50-State Surveys.

Gain access to these and other features:

- More than 750 topical issues, grouped into 200 discrete surveys in more than 30 practice areas
- Overviews that showcase the overall landscape as well as federal and industry mandates and key trends
- Analytical distinctions that indicate divergent state approaches in a concise way, highlighting major issues and noting state treatment in the chart

Enjoy our unique advantage—more complete content

Gain an overview of legislation, regulations and even court rules relevant to a particular topic. No other online legal provider offers all of this data in a single survey. Review information at a high level, then click links to dive into more details within Lexis. And, not only will you be speeding your research—you'll also be reducing your costs by spending less time performing that task.

Quickly access the 50-State Surveys through the Lexis search bar.

Document: Administrative Law - Agency Adjudication: Administrative Hearings - Actions

Go to Search Document

exceptions/objections; and (4) independent central hearing panels.

State	Statutes & Regulations	Alternative Dispute Resolution	Intervention	Party Submission of Exceptions/Objections	Independent Central Hearing Panel
AL	Code of Ala. §§ 41-22-12 through 41-22-27		In contested cases, upon timely application, any person shall be permitted to intervene when a statute confers an unconditional right to intervene, or when the applicant has an individual interest in the outcome of the case as distinguished from a public interest and the representation of the interest of the applicant is inadequate (Code of Ala. § 41-22-14)	Final decision shall not be made until an opportunity is afforded to each party adversely affected by the proposed order to file exceptions and present briefs and oral argument to the official not having heard the case or read the record (Code of Ala. § 41-22-15)

About Notes

About This Document

Source Information

LexisNexis® 50 State Surveys: Statutes and Regs

↑

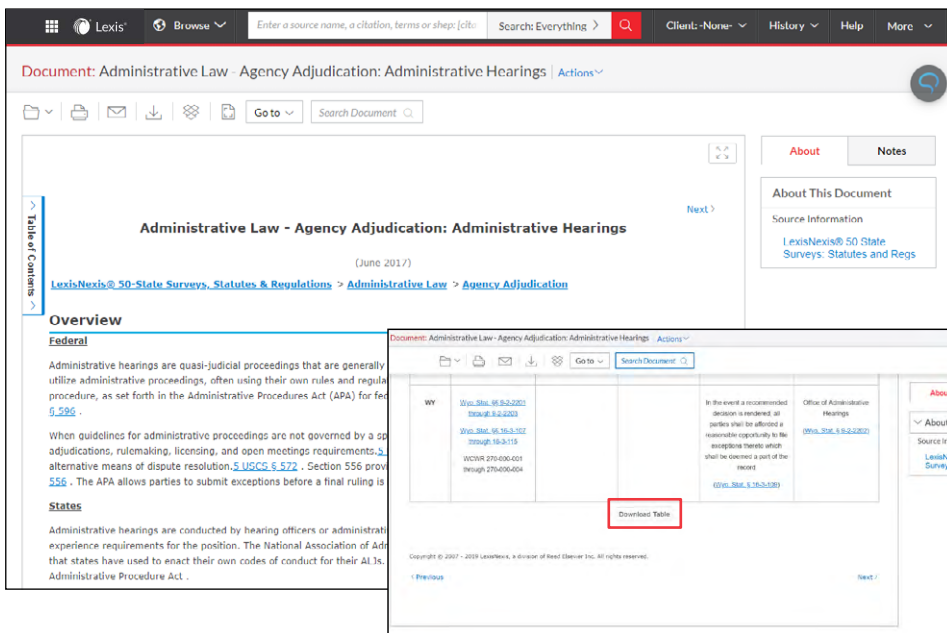

The “compare-at-a-glance” chart highlights and summarizes the distinctions in each state, offering you fast, easy analysis.

Now you can survey the statutes and regulations of all 50 states—in a single click

You can view the results of your 50-State Survey, Statutes & Regulations request easily within the Lexis service—and even download the results into a customizable Excel® spreadsheet. The states will be listed alphabetically with separate sections for statutes and regulations. To view the full text of a specific section, simply click on the section cite.

Access hundreds of surveys arranged by practice area. Just click on a topic and watch the menu expand—then choose a survey.

The landing page provides a brief description of the survey and analyzed issues—then a hyperlink quickly sends you to the Excel spreadsheet with the in-depth analysis you need.

Scroll to the bottom of the page to download to Excel.

Be confident in your research. LexisNexis attorney-editors carefully study the statutory and regulatory requirements of each state to identify and analyze the most relevant law.

For more information on this powerful multi-state research tool, please call 800.628.3612.

LexisNexis.com/Lexis

800.628.3612

