

Table of Contents

permissions include: creating cases based on version, working with spreadsheets, importing

Additionally general improvements were made to the New SQL Case dialog box. If there is only one SQL Server registered, the server automatically populates the SQL Server field. When typing in the case name, the Database Name field automatically populates with the case name and any invalid name characters are moved to the Database Name entry can be edited.

For more information, see the Managing SQL cases topic.

