

Verify volume data quickly, easily and more cost-effectively than ever before.

LexisNexis® Batch Services

Track down people and businesses—quickly and efficiently.

When your cases involve collections, bankruptcy, class-action litigation or product liability, you may need to update thousands of addresses and phone numbers, or quickly find information on a large number of individuals, businesses or assets. LexisNexis® understands these challenges and has a solution: Batch Services.

With your Accurant® for Legal Professionals account you have access to Batch Services, which can help you improve your speed and success with these types of cases. By accessing Batch Services, you can verify volume data quickly, easily—and at a discounted price. And we can help you update and customize your data by leveraging more than 46 billion public and proprietary public records that are refreshed daily with an additional 1 million records.

Batch Services can help save you countless hours when speed and quality are important to you:

- With your collections efforts:
 - Payment Score helps identify the most collectable accounts so you can collect on the highest percentage of dollars (Fair Credit Reporting Act [FCRA]-compliant)
 - Workplace Locator complements your skip-tracing efforts by leveraging subject and spousal information as well as email addresses (non-FCRA compliant)
- In your bankruptcy litigation:
 - Rely on FCRA-compliant Banko® data that stands up in bankruptcy court
 - Leverage Banko bankruptcy notifications to monitor a portfolio of individual records and stay on top of changes, e.g., deceased or bankruptcy status
- As you litigate class action cases:
 - Get help locating class action members, pattern witnesses, debtors, and assets by leveraging a batch approach instead of individual searches
- With your firm's workflow:
 - Stay in touch with your clients by updating contact information in large mailing lists
 - Significantly reduce or eliminate the need for manual searches, thereby reducing workload and improving employee efficiency

Leave the searching to us

Your Batch Services consultant will help get you the information you need quickly. Regardless of the size and scope of your data requirements, your batch requests are always a priority.

Here's how it works:

- 1 Send a secure list of records (individual names, Social Security numbers, etc.) to your Batch Services consultant.
- 2 Your consultant will help you determine exactly what type(s) of search(es) will best suit your needs.
- 3 LexisNexis will run your list as a batch against a variety of data sources, including Workplace Locator, which provides current or most recent work phone number and address plus other related information.
- 4 You will receive results in a secure text or CSV file format.

Trust in our industry-leading data security

LexisNexis is a time-tested and trusted industry leader in data security and privacy. We provide authoritative and reliable information to help you make better, faster decisions. And you can be assured that your data is secure and never shared.

Rely on robust resources and capabilities from LexisNexis

- Count on prompt, precise customer service from our experienced Batch Services consultants who can answer any questions and ensure you get the most out of your data files.
- Receive current, meaningful reports that quickly uncover information you might otherwise not identify among billions of records. And our industry-leading best practices ensure minimal duplications and false positives.
- Benefit from our advanced searching and linking technology between address and phone resources. Hit rates are in the 80 percent range—the highest in the marketplace—for our premier address/phone resources.
- Access information on more than 708 million unique identities, 2.5 billion business contact records and over 3,000 tax assessor counties through a combination of Accurant databases and other valuable LexisNexis resources.

Sources include Gramm-Leach-Bliley—compliant proprietary data, bankruptcy filings, court filings, incorporation documents, judgments, jury verdicts and settlements, real property records, sanctions, UCC liens, motor vehicle and driver's license records, professional licenses and voter registrations, plus information on liquor licenses, IRS enrolled agents and inactive business directory contacts not available through other services.

Let LexisNexis help you get the critical information you need more quickly and efficiently than ever before with Batch Services.
