If guideline errors were identified, your invoice will be rejected. You can access the invoice from the Rejected by Billing Guidelines Review link on the Home page. Fix the errors and submit the invoice again.

Alternate Invoice Submission Methods

If you are not able to upload a structured data (LEDES) file, use one of these alternate methods to submit your invoices to Counsellink.

Email Invoice

Create invoices in any of the following formats: .pdf, .doc, .txt, and .xls. Invoices must include the following information:

- Service provider name and address
- Client Name
- Corporate Customer Matter ID and Title
- Invoice date
- Unique invoice number
- Text in English
- Fee, disbursement, and invoice total amounts
- Tax and discount amounts separate from fee and disbursement totals, if applicable
- Currency type
- A date for each fee or expense charge
- A complete charge description
- For hourly billing:
 - Use tenth of an hour time increment (e.g., .10, .20, .30, etc.)
 - Include timekeeper IDs and timekeeper rates or cost associated with each charge.
 - Timekeeper summary listing the names, timekeeper IDs, hourly rates and total hours billed by each timekeeper.

Email the invoices to Counsellink for processing. Invoices should be sent as an attachment (6 MB maximum file size) to counsellinkinvoices@lexisnexis.com.

Multiple invoices may be attached to one email but include only one invoice per file attachment. Please include any backup documentation (e.g., receipts) at the end of the invoice file and not as a separate file attachment. Do not send balance statements or any other non-invoice documents. Do not send blurry or out-of-focus invoices.

Once the invoice is received, a verification email will be sent out that includes a confirmation number for each invoice attachment. This confirmation number should be retained for tracking purposes.

Note: Invoices that do not meet minimum Counsellink requirements will be rejected and returned to your law firm. An email message is sent to the person who submitted the invoice email as well as individuals in the Accounts Receivable role at the law firm office. The message will contain the reason for the rejection and the actions needed to correct the problems. After fixing the issues, submit the corrected invoice.

Mail Paper Invoice

You can mail an original copy of an invoice on white paper to Counsellink. A separate invoice must be submitted for each matter. Mailed invoices must contain all the same matter, invoice, and charge level data listed in the Email Invoice section above.

Mail the paper invoices to:

Client Name c/o LexisNexis Counsellink Invoices
1801 Varsity Drive

Stages of Invoice Review

CounselLink uses a combination of automated reviews and client reviews to identify and flag issues on invoices.

1. Validation Review – All submitted invoices are immediately checked for math and date format errors. If any are detected, error messages display. Resolve the math or date errors and submit the invoice again.
2. Billing Guideline Review – Charge lines are compared to your client’s billing rules. Any violations are noted and either a flag or an adjustment is applied to the charge. Review your client’s billing guidelines to prevent flags and adjustments on future invoices.
3. Client Review - The client reviews all the charge lines, including adjustments and flags added during the Billing Guideline review, and makes charge-level and invoice-level decisions. Once complete, the invoice is approved or rejected by the client. If approved, invoice payments are made.

Note: Some clients allow law firms to review and appeal adjustments on invoices. Other clients reject invoices with charge errors and require submission of a new, corrected invoice. Review your client’s policies to resolve rejected invoices appropriately.

Invoice Statuses

The Billing panel of the Home page shows the number of invoices in the following statuses:

- Action Required for Collaborative Review - Invoices that were adjusted by the client while using the collaborative review feature. Action is required by the law firm before these invoices can be finalized.
- Inactive / Incomplete - Invoices that have been started by the law firm, but have not been sent to the client.
- On Hold - Invoices ready to be sent to client, but the invoice cannot be sent because of a pending matter status. Resolve the matter status issue, then submit the invoice.
- Scheduled - Some clients require that invoices be sent only during certain time periods. Invoices created prior to a pre-set billing day will be held in this status.
- Rejected by Billing Guidelines Review - Invoices sent to the clients and automatically rejected by the corporate client's billing guidelines. Review the billing guidelines before submitting another invoice.
- Rejected by Client - Invoices rejected by the client after passing the billing guidelines review. View the invoice or charge-level notes to determine why the invoice was rejected.
- Adjusted and Approved by Client - Invoices approved by the client within the last sixty (60) days after adjustments were made. Review the invoice for details about adjustments made.
